Course Description

Welcome to our journey through the history of The City of London and of London (yep those are two separate things) from pre-Roman tribal movements to the modern day. We'll mostly focus on the city it's self but also touch on the people and events that created the city.

We will look at Roman Londinium, the importance of the Thames in the growth and importance of the city. We'll follow the changes in the early kingdoms and when London became the capitol city of what we know as England.
